SYNOPSIS

This story takes place in 19th century London. Benjamin Barker is an innocent barber who is punished for a crime he did not commit; the corrupt Judge Turpin sends him to a faraway country to do hard labour as a convict. Fifteen years later the barber returns to his London home with a new identity, and he is seeking revenge!

Taking on a new name of Sweeney Todd, Benjamin Barker goes back to his old barbershop on Fleet Street, located above Ms Lovett's Meat Pie Shop. Ms Lovett tells Benjamin how, after he was sent away, Judge Turpin forced himself on his wife, Lucy, and how Lucy then poisoned herself. Benjamin and Lucy's daughter, Johanna (who was then a baby), now lives with Judge Turpin, who made himself her guardian.

In the meantime, a young sailor, Anthony, who was on the boat with Sweeney Todd (i.e. Benjamin) as he returned to London, sees Johanna, who is now a young lady; he falls in love - and she with him! They plan to run away, but Judge Turpin sees what is happening. Wanting to marry the beautiful Johanna himself, Turpin foils their plan by locking her away in a psychiatric hospital. Sweeney Todd wants nothing more than to have revenge upon the judge and recover his daughter, so he decides to help Anthony. However, various unexpected things start happening, resulting in Sweeney Todd turning into a serial killer!

Sweeney Todd has a rival barber, an Italian called Pirelli, who recognises him as Benjamin Barker and blackmails him, threatening to tell Judge Turpin who he really is. Sweeney Todd's killer instinct erupts and he murders him. Ms Lovett then has the idea of getting rid of the body by using it as filler in her meat pies. This is the start of a trend whereby Sweeney Todd kills client after client, his serial killing providing the meat for Ms Lovett's pies. The pies are a great success, and their small tavern becomes hugely popular. Ms Lovett is helped by Toby, a twelve-year-old orphan who had been working for Pirelli and who, at the end of the story, discovers the terrible truth.

As this goes on, Ms Lovett tries to interest Sweeney Todd in living life as a happily married couple, but he has just one thing on his mind: revenge. In the end Ms Lovett's plans fail calamitously, as Sweeney Todd discovers that she had tricked him into believing Lucy had died, when in fact she is still alive, now a mentally disturbed beggar woman who wanders the local streets. Inevitably, an awful end soon befalls them.

The storyline was the inspiration for a famous Broadway musical by Stephen Sondheim, which won widespread acclaim when it was first performed in 1979. Since then numerous versions of the story have been produced in theatres all around the world.

A film version of the musical was made in 2007, directed by Tim Burton, and starring Johnny Depp as Sweeney Todd and Helena Bonham Carter as Ms Lovett.

Anthony: a young sailor who met Sweeney Todd during his time away from London. He falls in love with Johanna without realising she is Todd's daughter, and he asks Todd to help them escape the judge and run away.

Pirelli: an Italian barber who is also a fraudster. He recognises Sweeney Todd and tries to blackmail him, asking for money to keep Todd's true identity secret, but Todd then kills him (his first murder).

Toby: a twelve-year-old orphan who had been working for Pirelli until Todd murdered Pirelli. He then starts living with Ms Lovett and Sweeney Todd, helping serve the pies. He loves Ms Lovett very much and believes she is good until, finally, he discovers the truth.

Beadle Bamford: a low, corrupt and mean character who helps Judge Turpin carry out his ugly plans.

Mrs Lovett: owner of the pie shop below Benjamin Barker's barbershop. She loves the barber and, when he returns from his years away, she does not tell him the full truth about what happened with Lucy while he was gone, wanting him for herself. She convinces Sweeney Todd to use the bodies of his victims as the filler in her meat pies.

Judge Turpin: a corrupt and amoral judge. Early in the story he tricks Lucy and then rapes her. As the story goes on he plans to marry Johanna, the daughter of Lucy and Benjamin Barker, who is just a teenager.
